Voters approve engineering for Grafton Street sewage

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Millbury's Annual Town Meeting on June 16 engendered a variety of emotions from pathos and sadness to joy and humor. Nearly 300 voters approved operating budgets for all town departments totalling $12,714,744 to be raised by taxation.

The School Department budget was approved, as recommended by the Finance Committee (FinCom), at $6,475,979 and general government at $863,219. The school budget was down from last year's appropriation of $6,617,866.

The Police Department budget was $1,034,511 compared to last year's appropriation of $971,471. Police Chief Richard Handfield explained the budget process for his department in response to a question by Leslie Lane resident Sylvio Bourdeau regarding use of the reserve account for supplementing overtime pay for police department personnel. Handfield noted that he has built a budget that will reflect the real operating expenses and not require the use of the reserve account for transfer requests. The department will have to live within this budget, he said, and not, as in the past, go to FinCom for transfers.

Going through the budget, some line items were placed on hold for further discussion while others were approved without debate. The School Budget item regarding "salaries administrative" was put on hold by Sylvio Bourdeau, who moved to amend the line item budget to cut $22,300 which he said amounted to a figure that matched the administrative raises in the school department.

School Committee Chairman Chet Hanratty noted that the raises were a contracted item. He said the Committee is looking at alternative means to deal with the issue but he said he was not at liberty to discuss the alternatives. The administrators were asked to forego their raises, he said, but the Millbury Teachers Association, bargaining agents for the administrators, recommended that the administrators not forego their contracted raises. Hanratty said if the town meeting cuts $22,300 from the account, the money will have to be taken from "supplies and texts" which, he said, has suffered serious cuts already.

Moderator Tom Fox noted that the Town Meeting, by law, cannot signify where cuts are to be made in the school department budget since that is the prerogative of the School Committee alone.

Finance Committee Vice Chairman William Pratt said his committee recommended the acceptance of the school budget as it felt the school committee had done all it could to come up with the present budget.

Wayne Sclar, of Manor Road, spoke in favor of the budget, alleging that some individuals were trying to make "political hay" out of the issue. He said people have a responsibility to the administrators.

Jay Hanratty, of Manor Road, a member of the Blackstone Valley Technical High School Committee, said he, too, thought the contracted salaries should go through.

Grafton Street resident Bill Moore said he was not trying to make political hay as the only thing he ever ran for "was the town line." "Even though we have to honor the contract," he said, "I object to them saying vote for it (raises) or they're going to get it anyway. What does that sound like? Why are we sitting here? Did I hear him right? If we (town meeting voters) don't put it (money for raises) in there, they (school committee) are going to put it in anyway? That's like blackmail. We might as well go home and have a hot dog."

Steve Crain, of Millbury Ave., also spoke to the pay raise issue. "If the School Committee is elected by the people and the people now tell them we don't want the administrators to get a raise, then now the people have given the School Committee a mandate. The School Committee then will be held accountable to us if they either do or don't. If they say the bottom line is all that matters and they are going to get it anyway, then we will then know they went against our will." Crain also said he didn't like hearing that the money for the raises would have to come from the student's book budget if the town meeting cut the $22,300 from the salary account.

The motion to reduce the school budget by $22,300 failed.

A question was raised relative to a line item in the Sewer Commission budget concerning the use of funds totalling $80,780. Sewer Commission member George Buron explained that the monies are needed for utilities, professional consulting services, and sludge disposal.

The articles that generated much feeling and discussion were two that referred to petitioned articles by residents of the Paul Revere Condominiums off Grafton Street. Favorable action by voters on the articles authorized the Board of Selectmen to call a special election within 45 days of approval by the Town Meeting to seek voter approval by ballot at a special election for a Prop. 2 1/2 debt exclusion override. The debt exclusion would allow the Town to seek a bond issue for $1.4 million to construct sewer lines along Grafton Street to the Grafton line. Included in the debt exclusion override is a request for $100,000 for engineering work.

An additional $105,000 will come from a transfer from the Sewer Department's "other expenses" account which was approved by unanimous vote on a motion by Sewer Commissioner George Buron. Buron said the $105,000 would provide for engineering services which would be required for the installation of sewer lines. He noted that the work would have to be done eventually and stressed that it would not negatively impact on other proposed sewer projects.

Say decision was carefully considered

To the Editor:

In order to clarify the confusion of a Millbury resident's recent letter, the teaching staff of Millbury High School would respond that one problem with today's education is the critic who confuses issues of importance and substance with issues that are trivial and personal. After careful reading of the published letter, one is left unclear as to the real point being made by the writer. It seems to create a nonissue whose only purpose is to embarrass two exceptional young girls and detract from the joy of a wonderful graduation ceremony.

The carefully considered decision to have co-valedictorians was made by faculty and administration to recognize the achievements of two exceptional students. Certainly the decision involved no academic compromise or lowering of standards as the letter implied. The author said that, "one half is not the same as a whole" True. The issue however, is that two is more than one, and in this case considerably more, two excellent students who both deserve to lead the class. The

BEACON HILL ROLL CALL

BOSTON - This week's "Beacon Hill Roll Call" records the votes of Senator Matthew Amorello (R-Grafton) on three roll calls from the week of June 15-19. There were no roll calls in the House.

SEXUAL ABUSE (H 2107) - Senate 24-13, rejected an amendment to the House approved bill extending the time period during which a minor victim of sexual abuse can bring a civil suit. Current law allows suits until the victim turns 21. The bill permits suits within three years of the act or within three years of the time the victim discovers emotional problems caused by the act. The amendment would prohibit any suit after 20 years from the time of the act. Amendment supporters said an open ended period is unworkable and will further clutter the courts. They argued that after 20 years it will be extremely difficult for judges and juries to sort out allegations and evidence. Opponents said it often takes more than 20 years for victims to acknowledge this abuse and argued the amendment weakens the bill and takes rights away from victims. Further Senate action is expected next week. Amorello voted against the 20 year cap.

COLA (H 5260) - Senate 32-2, refused to postpone action for one week on the question of overriding Governor Weld's veto of the bill granting a five percent cost of living increase to 85,000 state, county and municipal retirees. The raise is retroactive to January 1, and caps any individual increase at $450. Postponement supporters said the raise will cost millions and urged the Senate to consider it next week when members will debate the fiscal 1993 state budget and can look at the state's entire financial situation. Opponents said this was just another attempt to delay the bill and deny moderate hikes to these retirees. Amorello voted against postponement.

COLA (H 5260) Senate 36-1, agreed with the House and overrode the veto of the 5% cost of living increase for 85,000 retirees. Supporters of the hike said these retirees have not had a raise in four years and have waited long enough. Opponents said the increase will cost $75 million through fiscal 1993 and argued the state simply cannot afford it. Amorello voted for the 5% increase.

The Lobby at Work...This Time it Hurt By Lawrence Moore

Let's clear the air and ease the concerns of residents in housing for the elderly. There will be no increase in rental to 35% as stated in a previous article. Present recertification will continue, and rents will increase from 27% to 30%, effective July 1. It is important to complete the recertification process on time. If it is not, market rental rates (probably more than twice as high) will be charged until recertification is completed, at which time excess rentals collected will be credited.

So don't worry, be happy. It's not as bad as it might have been. "But why," tenants ask, "was there so much confusion; why so much upset?"

The Legislature, at the beginning of the budget process, seeking "revenue enhancement," was presented with a proposal to increase all rentals to 35% as of August 1. NAHRO (National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials), a lobbying organization in which Housing Authorities are members, immediately broadcast the alarm, and began setting its machinery in motion to fight the suggested increase. Like the children of Haemeenlinna (in Finland) following the Pied Piper, housing authorities, executive directors and tenants rose up in a hue and cry and descended on Boston with a barrage of calls to the Governor, the Legislature, and to Mary L. Padula, Secretary, Communities and Development (OECD) in the Weld Administration.

At the request of Weld, Padula wrote to all legislators "to clarify the many misstatements made regarding the Administration's position on any increase to elderly public housing tenant's rents. I am incensed at the misinformation that has been disseminated to elderly tenants by a number of advocacy groups," she wrote.

In regard to elderly tenants, at the NAHRO conference in May she "made it very clear to them that the Administration was recommending that THE ELDERLY BE EXEMPTED FROM ANY PROPOSED INCREASE TO 35%." She continues in her letter, "I was very disappointed to learn that despite my efforts to inform all of the housing authorities of the elderly exemption, the elderly population has been targeted by the misinformation campaign led by NAHRO."

Padula expressed dismay that advocates continued to repeat "NAHRO's and others' misstatements to elderly public housing residents thus unduly and unnecessarily alarming them."

There you have it, if Mary will forgive me, from the horse's mouth. Unfortunately, many advocacy groups and lobbyists see these controversies as opportunities to enhance their own status with their members, even if the facts are twisted and the truth distorted, and regardless of who is hurt in the process. In this case, NAHRO's campaign backfired, upsetting many of its members whose job it was to calm angry and fearful tenants. The lobby at work...this time it hurt!

Clean Water Action report details danger of heavy metal pollution

WORCESTER - A new report, released by the Clean Water Action Alliance of Massachusetts, details the danger of heavy metal pollution by lead, mercury, and cadmium in Central Massachusetts. The report covers the major sources of heavy metal pollution, the health effects of this pollution, and solutions available to reduce heavy metal releases to the environment.

The reports found that Massachusetts trash incinerators emit approximately 11,000 pounds of mercury a year into the air, the third highest level in the nation. "Based on stack tests," the report states, "the Wheelabrator Millbury incinerator released almost one fifth of this total, or about 2145 pounds per year of mercury. Wheelabrator Millbury also emits about 630 pounds of lead per year into the air. Emissions levels are unavailable for cadmium, arsenic, and other heavy metal pollutants because they are not regulated by the DEP."

The Wheelabrator Millbury facility is in compliance with state emissions standards for lead and mercury, but the report argues that stricter standards and state-of-the-art pollution controls are necessary to protect public health. "Heavy metals are also present in incinerator ash," according to the report, "the Ash from the Wheelabrator incinerator is estimated to contain 1 ton of mercury, 5 tons of cadmium, and 206 tons of lead per year. The ash is buried in a lined landfill in Shrewsbury." Reducing air emissions would increase the levels of heavy metals in the incinerator ash.

According to the report, the other major source of heavy metals to the environment are power plants. Coal plants emit mercury and lead; oil-fired plants emit cadmium and lead.

Industrial sources of heavy metals entering the environment include three Central Mass. companies reporting lead emission greater than 250 pounds per year: Koehler Manufacturing in Marlboro, Allied Products in Northbridge, and Bay State Abrasives in Westboro.

Clean Water Action proposed that the following steps be taken to reduce the threat of heavy metal pollution:

1. Manufacturers must remove heavy metals from consumer products wherever possible.
2. The DEP should expand the waste bans to include the largest sources of mercury, lead, and cadmium. Recycling programs for consumer products such as batteries, fluorescent light bulbs, consumer electronics, plastics, glass, and many others must be expanded.
3. The state should deny all permits to new emitters of toxic heavy metals.
4. Energy policy should favor conservation and renewable fuels with the goal of phasing out fossil fuel burning.
5. Emissions limits for heavy metals should be tightened to reflect what is possible with state-of-the-art pollution controls.
6. The state should begin a program of testing for heavy metals in fish, fish-eating animals, soil, cows' milk, water, and air.
7. Congress should pass the Kostmayer Act which would ban batteries and household hazardous waste from incinerators.

The Clean Water Action Alliance of Massachusetts is a coalition of 35 grassroots organizations throughout Massachusetts, with over 40,000 citizen members statewide. The report was released at the 21st annual meeting of the Regional Environmental Council.

SUTTON - Boy Scout Troop 131 from Sutton recently honored two outstanding individuals from Millbury and Sutton for their support of Boy Scouts of America. Every year troop 131 runs a fertilizer sale to help offset the cost of maintaining a troop. This fundraiser has enabled the troop to buy much needed equipment, a trailer to carry this equipment, and also provided camp scholarships for those in need. Members of Troop 131 said none of this could have been accomplished without the generous support of Ray Dubois of Ray's True Value Hardware in Millbury and the organizational skills of Diane Spinney of Sutton. Both of these individuals have been heavily involved in this fundraiser for many years. As a token of thanks, the Scouts presented Dubois with a plaque to display at the store and a Troop 131 shirt. They also presented Diane Spinney with a gift certificate to a local eatery. The presentations were made at the last parents' night troop meeting.

1991 Miss Teen USA in Millbury Parade

Miss Teen USA 1991

"Building the float brings everyone together for some activity besides work where we can just have fun." D'Auteuil said they usually have a barbecue after the construction to celebrate their creation.

The theme of this year's parade is "Striving to Keep America Beautiful," so D'Auteuil said they came up with the idea of having something "really beautiful" as part of their float entry. "We felt we keep America beautiful by removing rubbish and recycling, and what better way to show how committed we are to that than by presenting someone really beautiful."

Through relatives, D'Auteuil was able to contact the agent of Jane Bishop, Miss Teen USA 1991, and has arranged to include her in Frank Rubbish Removal's parade entry. Bishop, a junior at Manchester High School, was chosen from among 50 other delegates representing all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

"This year, we thought we'd do something a little different, D'Auteuil said. "The Lions always put on such a good parade, we thought we'd do a little more to enhance the parade." Frank Rubbish Removal hopes that people look for this beautiful young woman on their float and show her a warm Millbury welcome.

Early morning activity at Manchaug Pond generates complaints

By Alec G. Belisle

SUTTON. The Sutton Selectmen met June 16. Vice-Chairman Rick Labonte presided in the absence of Chairman Wally Johnson.

Intersection

A letter was received from the Department of Public Works relative to an inquiry from Representative Richard Moore regarding the safety of the intersection at Central Turnpike and Putnam Hill Road and the status of resurfacing the "M" route which crosses Sutton into Douglas. In Sutton, the remainder of the "M" route to be resurfaced is Putnam Hill Road.

According to the letter, only four accidents occurred at the intersection of Putnam Hill Road and Central Turnpike in 1988, 1989, and 1990. None of the accidents were serious. The letter states that these accidents and the small amount of traffic at this intersection does not warrant a four way stop or overhead traffic light though the DPU will consider ways to improve the safety at the site.

The letter also stated that the DPU has the funding to continue to upgrade the drainage and improve the surface of Putnam Hill Road, work which will start in the latter part of the 1993 construction season.

Steven's Pond Dam

Town Administrator Dexter Blois said he received two proposals for work on the Steven's Pond Dam, one for $26,000 and the other for $17,900. He said he would make sure that the proposals are to perform the same work. This cost will include a study of the work to be done, borings, a review of the plans for the dam, and recommendations so that the town will have documents that will allow it to go out to bid with a cost estimate.

Woodburyville Heights

Blois said he met with residents of Woodburyville Heights relative to their plight with the FDIC. Woodburyville Heights is an unfinished condominium project off Boston Road. Blois said the bank that had financed the project has failed and been taken over by the FDIC. Only nine units have been completed at the site and of these, only eight are occupied, three by renters, five by owner occupants. Upkeep of the roads and the grounds is the responsibility of the condominium association but because there are so few units, the residents have difficulty underwriting the cost. The problem is further aggravated by the fact that some owners are not paying the fees.

Blois said he talked to Congressman Joe

Early's office but they knew no more than Blois through his correspondence with the FDIC. Blois said he saw little relief until the FDIC does something or another developer comes along to purchase the development rights. Blois said he sympathized with the residents but felt there is nothing the Town can do.

Manchaug Pond

Larry Wiersma of Torrey Road told the board that the "Happy Hookers" Bass Fishing Club has an agreement for access to the boat ramp on Manchaug Pond from six a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sundays. He showed copies of the police log showing his complaints that boats were there from 3:21 a.m. By 4 a.m., he said, there were 11 boats and trailers and that number increased to 15 by 4:15. He said he was told by the police department that there was nothing they could do. He said it was his understanding that the ramp was supposed to be closed from 10:30 p.m. to 6 a.m. He said residents are disturbed by the boat and trailer activity at night.

Blois said he received a call on Sunday and checked the permits which state 6:00 a.m. He called the Public Access Board and informed them of the problem that occurred on Sunday. He said he received a call from the "Happy Hookers" apologizing for the early Sunday morning activity. They indicated that this will no longer happen.

Blois said the police should not have given the fishermen the key allowing them access to the ramp and should instead have told them they should not be there. He said he would inform the police that the fishermen should not line up early to gain access to the ramp.

Labonte suggested that the selectmen remind other groups using the property of the opening time. He said the area is residential and residents should be able to have uninterrupted sleep. He also said that no one is permitted to park at the gate until it opens.

Annual Appointments

The selectmen made their annual appointments filling terms which have expired and those vacated.

Health Insurance Coverage

The Insurance Advisory Committee sent a letter to the selectmen recommending that the town adopt the plan of the Massachusetts Interlocal Insurance Agency (MIIA). The letter stated that the MIIA plan most closely replicates the indemnity coverage provided in 1992 by Blue Cross Master Health Plus.

Blois, in a memorandum to the board, recommended that the board accept the recommendation of the Insurance Advisory Committee conditional upon completion of "Impact Bargaining" with the teacher's and police unions.

Deborah Roberts, of Pine Ridge Road, made an impassioned appeal against the transfer, saying she has had a serious problem with the septic system at her home for several years. She said that while she felt sorry for the people at Paul Revere, there are other individual homeowners in town faced with similar problems.

Joe Chioda, of Lexington Road, said he in turn felt sympathy for Roberts, but emphasized that 98 families are having problems in the condominium complex. He also noted that the residents are under orders from the Board of Health to take measures or face eviction.

Jay Hanratty, of Manor Road, asked about completion of sewer work in the area of Dorothy Pond and what, if any, delays this proposal would have on other areas of town without sewers. He said that while he was sympathetic to the needs of Paul Revere, other areas in town have been waiting for sewage for a long time.

Buron replied that the Sewer Commissioners have never been made aware of any area in town facing the magnitude of the problems at Paul Revere. He noted that 98 families are being affected in a small area. He also said the engineering work for the Dorothy Pond area has been completed but monies from the state that were reimbursable have dried up.

Buron also noted that the sewer commissioners are working with the Roberts family to assist them with their sewage problem.

Bill Moore of Grafton Street asked the voters to consider the problems facing the people at Paul Revere who, he said, bought their homes in good faith, "depending on all the town officials that this was a safe place to buy and live. These people will lose their homes," Buron said. "Don't blame these people. Blame the town officials who allowed this. They are asking for help. Let's give them that help."

Frank Piscitelli, former chairman of the board of health and building inspector, told the voters, "I am one of those officials who did not do their job." He also said he looked at the Cullinan Engineering report and claimed that 20 of the 27 septic systems at Paul Revere could be repaired.

Piscitelli was ruled out of order by Fox and told that he was not addressing the articles.

Buron made the motion that articles 44 and 45, consisting of a bond issue of $1,400,000, be put on the ballot under a proposition 2 1/2 debt exclusion, which must be put before the voters within 45 days of the vote of the town meeting. If the first vote at special town election fails, the Board of Selectmen have the authority to call for a second election within 90 days of the town meeting vote. Buron's motion for the debt exclusion to be placed on the ballot of a special election was unanimously approved.

Sarah Lilley, President of the Paul Revere Village Association, asked the voters to support the articles, noting that without the sewer line on Grafton Street the people of Paul Revere stand to lose their homes. She also stressed that the town would not be putting in the lines to the complex as that is the responsibility of the people in the association. Lilley also noted that the report referred to by Piscitelli was now some two years old. She concluded her comments by reading from the last paragraph of an editorial in the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle that called for community support of the articles.

The vote was 245 to 13 in favor of Buron's motion for a debt exclusion to be placed on a town ballot.

Jay Hanratty attempted to amend the article to include that section of the Dorothy Pond area that has not been completed with sewer lines.

He was told by the Moderator Tom Fox that his proposal was beyond the scope of the article as written and did not provide for due notice to the public who might want to be present to vote on the issue.

Town Counsel John Giorgio supported Fox's ruling.

Jonathan Green, of Miles Street, said he was not opposed to the motion by Buron but suggested that the article also include wording that the funds, if approved, would not be spent until assurances are made that financing for sewerage the internal complex will be accomplished.

Town Counsel said he didn't know if Green's proposal would stand up to bond counsel scrutiny.

Jay Hanratty then said he would like to support Buron's motion, and said to those present in support of Paul Revere: "We will be back. I approve and support this, and ask you to support us in the future."

At a special meeting called by the Selectmen on June 23, the board voted to place the question of the debt exclusion on a July 28th town-wide ballot. Absentee ballots are now available at the town clerk's office.

In a related matter, the voters unanimously approved a motion by Sylvio Bourdeau to appoint and direct the Board of Selectmen to act as a committee while retaining their authority under M.G.L. Ch.41 sec. 23b to perform a complete investigation of all town departments involved in any way with the construction of Paul Revere Village "to determine if all town by-laws and the General Laws of the Commonwealth which apply were adhered to and to make recommendations where deemed necessary to change any Town by-laws or operation of any town department to avoid any future problems such as that exist in Paul Revere Village and to file a report of their investigation and that $20,000 be transferred from the stabilization fund for the purpose of the motion."

A request from Tree Warden William Berthiaume to add money to the beetle and moth control line item was defeated. Berthiaume said more funding is needed to cut down trees that have been destroyed by disease.

Pratt told the voters that the monies in the Tree Warden's budget are intended for that purpose.

A move to change the time for publishing of the Town Report and The FinCom handbook from 10 days prior to town meeting to 17 days to allow for the public to have more time to study the recommendations of budgets and articles prior to town meeting was defeated. Bill Moore suggested that the availability of the reports be made more public by advertising when they become available.

Article 27, calling for an amendment to the General By-laws regarding closing out of warrant articles, was passed after a defeat of a recommendation of the FinCom for indefinite postponement. The bylaw calls for closing out money warrant articles after the second fiscal year following a town meeting and at the end of 24 months after following a special town meeting. The exception is building construction articles which must be closed 90 days following acceptance of a building.

Article 28, which asked the town to accept the provisions of MGL Chapter 40 Section 22F which grants authority to fix reasonable fees, was defeated when no specific information was forthcoming on which fees would be covered under the article.

Other articles approved included:

- money for a new police cruiser and rehabilitation of another;
- roof repairs at the high school at a cost of $50,000 from the stabilization fund;

Voters also approved an article allowing any person who resides in Millbury and who is handicapped, disabled, or 65 years or older to use the Millbury Transfer Station free of charge.

A by-law for regulations relative to biomedical research in the community, a request to amend the Millbury Zoning Map, a request to discontinue 150 ft. of Lakeview Street from its most southerly end all were indefinitely postponed as recommended by the Planning Board.

An article to accept several streets as Town ways was defeated because some of the streets have not been accepted by the town as yet, pending completion by builders. Other streets await action by the board of selectmen on layout before acceptance can be granted. It was noted that acceptance of any of the streets at this time would be illegal.

The town meeting adjourned at 12:02 A.M.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Things are happening all around Millbury these days. Right outside "My Window," the Sunday evening concerts have begun again, and also we had our first Annual Block Party. Then, too, there was the Town Meeting.

The Sunday evening concerts are very well done and seem to attract both young families and senior citizens. Our churches are making plans for a Singspiration July 12 which will include special spiritual musical numbers from our local church talent. In case of rain, we will use the facilities of the Millbury Baptist Church.

The First Annual Block Party is a great idea, and our thanks to the Lion's Club for all their efforts, but it can use some development. From what I could observe, there was music and food, but not much else. The four bands were great with Polish music, country/western, and both hard and soft rock. There were a few couples dancing to the country/western music and some polka, but not much elsewhere.

There was face painting and a magician for the young folks. The older children seemed to enjoy throwing some kind of banging object at each other. Many other events for them could be added another year.

It was hard to get a parking space at the high school as the Town Meeting was very well attended. The hot issue of course was the Paul Revere septic system. A Committee is to be formed to look into this matter and discern what went wrong.

One of the principles our nation was founded upon was the checks and balances system. This came out of a technology that recognizes the sinful nature of mankind and how we all need to be held accountable. It may not be willful, but we all are careless and make mistakes. These need to be corrected, prayed for, and then forgotten so we can get on with our lives. The Gospel of Jesus Christ offers us all a new birth, sin's penalty paid for by the Cross, and a God who forgives and forgets so that we can forget those things that are behind and press on to the prize of the high calling in Christ, Jesus. Amen.

two girls shared some classes, but they also had many different abilities and interests. How does one compare one girl's outstanding grades in an advanced mathematics course taken at Clark University with the other girl's tour of European cities to play classical music with a youth orchestra? This is but one example of the many complex factors that influenced the school teaching staff to divide the class honors.

An important issue that must not be forgotten is that the position of class valedictorian is not like a trophy won by a bowling team for a single event as the published letter suggested. The class position represents years of work and dedication in complex, varied, and highly demanding areas. Millbury residents and parents of graduates should not allow the triumphs of an exceptional class and two remarkable students to be shadowed by a petty, negative cloud of criticism.

Daniel Carmody, Principal
Millbury Memorial High School
(This letter was also signed by 31 staff members.)

Consider everyone's needs

To the Editor:

I have always supported local merchants whenever possible. The June 13, 1992 Block Party, however, created main street blockades and diminished weekend business for Millbury merchants. Carrying a child plus 20 pounds of merchandise for longer than one block was ridiculous. I would expect, and I think businesses would agree, that the town and its residents, should be more responsible in considering all the community's needs. If you want to promote good community relations, please be more thoughtful in the future.

I will always support community activities, but those functions should not impact negatively on the town that you are trying to support. Perhaps the use of Windle Field could be requested; it seems a logical location for a "town party." Karl Ebert

Democracy in jeopardy

To the Editor:

Anyone who attended the Millbury town meeting on June 16, certainly did not leave feeling that he had just attended the purest form of democracy in action.

The town meeting members were subjected to misinformation, no information, misguided information and in some cases tainted information. How can anyone make a wise decision on how to vote on any issue without all available information being submitted to him.

First of all, at least one Finance Committee Recommendation Book should be mailed to every house in town where one or more registered voters reside. Second, the book should contain all the information available to the F.C. right up to the point of printing the book. Third, an informed electorate in a democracy is the only way to retain that democracy. Haven't we all had enough of the tail wagging the dog!

No elected town official should be allowed to threaten, intimidate or coerce the town meeting. The Chairman of the School Committee was out of order when he stated his committee would cut the School Book account by $22,300 if the Town Meeting cut the School Administration account by that amount. Who has the authority of raising and appropriating money by taxation in Millbury, the School Committee or the Town Meeting?

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, U.C.C., MILLBURY: Rev. Jane Haley, 865-9737; Sundays: Worship at 10:00 a.m., Sunday School from 10:11-15 a.m. MEETINGS: Diaconate, first Thursday; Executive Board, Second Monday; choir practice, every Wednesday. Please inquire about our Women's Fellowship and Adult Fellowship.

MILLBURY FEDERATED CHURCH - UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST, United Methodist Church - Rev. J. Clifford Davis, Jr., Pastor - Sundays: 10:00 a.m. - Church School, Worship and Childcare; 11:00 a.m. Coffee Fellowship

FIRST BAPTIST, WEST SUTTON: Sunday Morning Worship at 9:30 a.m. followed by Coffee Time at 10:30 a.m.; 3rd Tuesday of each month - Women's Association meetings.

Sunday School - Nursery through Adults at 9:00 a.m.; Sunday Morning Worship at 10:00 a.m. (nursery provided); Communion Sunday, first Sunday of the month. Wednesdays: 10:00 a.m., Discovery Group meets for Bible study; Thursdays, Choir Rehearsal at 7:30 p.m.

RAYMOND MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL (United Church of Christ), MILLBURY: Mr. Raymond Mars, Pastor; Miss Elfreida Klauke, Organist - Sunday Morning Service at 9:30 a.m.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL, Main St., Wilkesonville: Saturday, 5:30 p.m. - Holy Communion; Sunday, 10:00 a.m. Holy Communion (1st-3rd-5th Sunday); Morning Prayer on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month. Church School - Pre-School - Grade 8

EMANUEL LUTHERAN, 200 Greenwood Street, Worcester, MA, Telephone: 756-6620: Ronald E. Jackson, Pastor; Chapel Communion, 8:00 a.m.; Family Worship, 9:30 a.m. in Sanctuary w/nursery; educational hour, 10:00 a.m.; Communion at 9:30 a.m. on the first Sunday of the month and festival Sundays.

When elected officials in a democracy will hold hostage the parents of children to get their way and appropriated money, then we are all in deep, deep trouble. If you can't see that, then there is really no hope for democracy for we have already lost it.
